TAXPAYERS' SUIT SENT BACK TO JUDGE HASBROUCK

Judge Morschauser Declines To Pass On Coykendall Action Or Dismiss Injunction Against City's Paying More Than 25 Per Cent Of Crossing Elimination Cost.

Those people who expected a summary disposition by Judge Morschauser of Poughkeepsie, dismissing the complaint and vacating Judge Hasbrouck's injunction in the tax payer's action brought by Edward Coykendall, to restrain the mayor and common council from paying more than twenty-five per cent of the cost of eliminating the Broadway crossings of the West Shore and Wallkill Valley Railroad Companies, were disappointed, as Judge Morschauser declined to make such summary disposition of so important a case, and after an extended argument transferred the entire matter to Judge Hasbrouck to be disposed of in Ulster county.

The matter came up before Judge Morschauser on Saturday morning. Corporation Counsel Brinnier appeared for the city and the other defendants, while Judge Clearwater represented Mr. Coykendall. Mr. Brinnier said that the action was to prevent the elimination of the crossings as ordered by the public service commission; that Mr. Coykendall had made suggestions as to the plan and as to changing it; had been served with copies of all the orders; had appeared by counsel and filed objections, and was concluded by the order of the public service commission from bringing a tax payer's action; that his remedy, if he had any, was by an appeal from the order of the public service commission to the appellate division; that the Broadway crossing was one of the most dangerous in the state, and that more people had been killed by the railroads at that crossing than in any other city of similar size in the country; that the elimination of the crossing had been the political issue last fall, and that Mayor Canfield was elected on that issue by over two thousand majority against his competitor, Mr. Metzger, who opposed the elimination. He asked that the injunction granted by Judge Hasbrouck be vacated, and that Mr. Coykendall's complaint be dismissed with costs in favor of the city and the aldermen.

Judge Clearwater said that it was difficult for him to believe that his friend Brinnier willfully would misstate the character of the action. He was forced to the conclusion that he had entirely misapprehended its character, the contents of the complaint, and affidavits upon which the injunction was granted by Judge Hasbrouck. He said that the state railroad law was clear, specific, unalterable beyond the power of the court to modify. It provided that whenever a change is made as to an existing railroad crossing, fifty per centum of the expense shall be borne by the railroad company, twenty-five centum by the city and twenty-five per centum by the state; Mr. Coykendall was not opposing and had not opposed the elimination of the crossings. There was not a word in the complaint, the sustaining affidavits or the injunction opposing their elimination. What was opposed was the order of the public service commission to which the city by the mayor and common council had agreed, which ordered and directed:

"That the cost of construction of sidewalks, pavements, sewers and guard rails; the cost of re-locating or re-constructing existing sewers and water mains, and the cost of and incidental to the acquisition of additional lands, or resulting from consequential damages, which should be in excess of $125,000 should be borne solely by the city of Kingston."

To this Judge Clearwater said the city illegally had agreed, thereby unlawfully agreeing that the taxpayers of Kingston should assume a burden which should be shared by the New York Central Railroad Company and by the state. That it was impossible for any human being to foretell what the consequential damages provided for by the order would amount to. They might amount to a very large sum of money grossly in excess of $125,000, but no matter what they were, under the order and the acceptance by the common council, the city would be compelled to pay unless the court restrained it by the suit by a taxpayer, which was precisely the action Mr. Corkendall had brought; that he did not wish any confusion to arise as to Mr. Corkendall's attitude towards the elimination of the crossings, which, as before stated, he did not oppose, but simply opposed the city assuming a burden which should be borne by the New York Central railroad.

As to the imputation that the plans of the city had been changed and the expense increased in consequence of Mr. Corkendall's suggestions, the judge said that the extent of Mr. Corkendall's suggestion was that if the crossings were to be eliminated the elimination should be of a proper character, that the subway should be so constructed not only to meet the present demands of traffic, but comprehensively to provide for the increase of traffic which it was claimed by the mayor and his advisers was coming in the immediate future, being of the view, in which all thoughtful, sensible citizens concurred, that if the job were done it should be well done; he had never intended from or to the slightest extent changed his position; that the cost of the elimination should be distributed precisely as the law provided—fifty per cent to the New York Central, twenty-five per cent to the state and twenty-five per cent to the city. There was no reason, said the judge, in law, economics or good municipal government, why the tax payers of Kingston should be overburdened with taxation when the law fixed the proportion of expense they were required to pay.

In answer to Mr. Brinnier's contention that Mr. Corkendall's sole remedy was by an appeal to the appellate division from the order of the public service commission, and that he was barred from bringing a tax payers' action, Judge Clearwater said that view was predicated upon an erroneous conception of the law, which gave to Mr. Corkendall an election of remedies. Notwithstanding all that had been said, he was not a party to the proceeding in the statutory sense, but even had he been a party he could elect, as he had elected, to pursue the remedy afforded to any tax payer to begin an action to prohibit the illegal expenditure of public funds, or the assumption by the municipal authorities of an unlawful financial burden to be paid by its tax payers.

After an extended argument Judge Morschauser said that he regarded the inclusion in the order of a direction that the city should assume consequential and other damages in excess of $125,000, as a very hazardous one for the city, there being no way of telling in advance what the consequential damages would amount to, that he would not decide the motion; that in fact he inclined to strongly to Judge Clearwater's contention that he would send the case to Judge Hasbrouck of Kingston, as it belonged in the Third Judicial District, and in Ulster county, and leave it to Judge Hasbrouck to dispose of as he saw fit, either hearing the motion or to direct a trial of the case at a trial or special term, and be made an order accordingly. The argument was characterized by many sharp passages at arms between Corporation Counsel Brinnier and Judge Clearwater, there being no personalities, however. A number of members of the Dutchess county bar were present and took great interest in the argument.

QUIZ WOMEN IN ELWELL MYSTERY

By Telegraph to The Freeman:

New York, June 14.—The slaying of Joseph Brown Elwell, New York's latest and most absorbing murder mystery, was engaging the attention of hundreds of police and detectives today, but was apparently little nearer solution.

Ewel was found dead in his home Friday with a bulet hole through his head.

The police planned today to question several women who, it is alleged, were intimate friends of Elwell. They refused to indicate the nature of the questioning further than to say that it was expected to gain information that might lead to a solution of the mystery.

Two men whom the police assert were well known to Elwell have vanished, it is declared, and the police are seeking them.

Elwell, who was internationally known as an expert on bridge whist, had written several books on the game and had made a fortune playing and giving instruction in the past time. He is said to have numbered scores of women among his acquaintances, and his friends declare they believe it ultimately will be shown that he was slain in revenge by a relative of some woman he had been intimate with.

Scout Soviet Collapse Report.

By Telegraph to The Freeman:

London, June 14.—Official circles were skeptical today of the unconfirmed report from Tokio that the Lenine-Trotzky regime at Moscow had collapsed and that General Brusiloff was in power. According to the Tokio report, which was said to have been received there from Vladivostok, Trotzky was slain and Lenine fled from Moscow.

TEETSEL FOUND ALONG THE ROAD

Saugerties Man Unable to Give Clear Account of Auto Accident—In Benedictine Sanitarium Suffering From Fractured Skull.

Sheldon Teetsell of Saugerties met with a severe accident Sunday evening near Stony Hollow. Just how the accident happened could not be learned as Mr. Teetsel was unable to give a very clear account of what happened, and his companions could not be located. About 8 o'clock Sunday evening Silas Kimbark and Charles Young, both of this city, found Teetsel along the road near Stony Hollow suffering from a severe injury on his forehead. They placed him in their car and brought him to the office of Dr. H. P. Van Wagenen on John street, where it was found that he was suffering from a fractured skull. Dr. Van Wagenen took the injured man to the Benedictine Sanitarium, where he was cared for and this morning he was reported as improving.

Teetsel's injuries are of a severe nature but are not considered dangerous. According to Teetsel's statement, although he was not clear just what did happen, he was struck by a car.

RECTOR WILLIAMS HERE TWO YEARS

At the morning service on Sunday, at the close of the sermon, at St. John's Episcopal Church, the rector, the Rev. Leighton Williams, D. D., reminded the congregation that it was the second anniversary of his first coming to St. John's, and also gave a brief resume of the church's history for that period. On the second Sunday in June, and the second Sunday after Trinity, 1918, (the same "second Sundays" being coincident as they were yesterday), Dr. Williams came to the Kingston church, as a supply, in response to a hurry call for him to do so, received by him from the late Bishop Greer. During the two years there have been 31 baptisms into the church and 49 have received the laying on of hands, and been admitted to the membership of the church by confirmation. There have been 16 marriages and 39 burials.

As to the finances of the church, about 25 percent has been added to the annual receipts of the church; current bills have been paid; thanks to the ladies of the church, the mortgage on the rectory property has been paid off. Furthermore there have been improvements made to the rectory, parish house and church property, including the installation of modern heating plants. And the salaries of the members of the choir have been raised.

The Sunday school has grown in numbers; the women's societies have been successively active; the young people's organization has been prosperous, raising by a sale $100 for missions; a Men's Club has been formed, and is active.

The Boy and Girl Scouts have, because of their own interest, kept alive their organizations, but Rector Williams urged the congregation to see to it that proper scout leaders were found among the members of the parish.

A Sick and Relief Committee, formed by the women of the church has also proven very helpful.

Spiritually, there has been an increase in the attendance at services and a growing harmony in the congregation. So successful was the Every Name Campaign that it will be carried forward through "Continuation Committees." Undoubtedly the Every Name Campaign was the more successful because of the preparation for the same through the "Advent Call," the work of the women of the church, preceding the campaign.

There is at present a fine spirit of cordiality and co-operation between the three Episcopal parishes in the city, and the church has stood wherever possible for the betterment of community conditions.

Dr. Williams said he was glad that the anniversary of his coming to St. John's, Kingston, had occurred on the Sunday it had, and he based his confidence in future growth and prosperity of the church upon the collect for the day, "O Lord, who never failest to help and govern those whom Thou dost bring up in Thy steadfast fear and love; Keep us, we beseech Thee, under the protection of Thy good providence, and make us to have a perpetual fear and love of Thy holy name, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

Victory Eagles Win Thrice.

On Sunday afternoon at the grounds in Wilbur, the Victory Eagles met defeat at the hands of the Young Wilbur Feds to the tune of 10 to 4. Doyle pitched for the Wilbur boys and held the Eagles down to a few hits, while Quigley received his share on the other end.

INTERNATIONAL COURT FORMING

Elihu Root and Other Experts To Pave Way For Court Which It Is Hoped Will Aid Materially In Making League Potent and In Preventing War.

By Telegraph to The Freeman:

London, June 14.—Elihu Root of the United States, and nine other members of the International Jurists Committee of the League of Nations, will assemble into the Carnegie Peace Palace at The Hague on Wednesday to lay the foundation of a permanent court of justice and arbitration. This court is designed to assist the league of nations in preventing war.

It already has been decided that the court shall sit permanently and administer international laws, regardless of the political consequences. However, many difficulties, among them the following, present themselves:

1—Shall the states be compelled to submit their disputes or shall their sovereign rights require their own consent?

2—How shall the court be constituted to prevent charges of favoritism from small states which may not have representation upon it?

3—How is the court to enforce its judgments?

Belief was expressed that the new organization will have two distinct branches, a court of justice and a court of arbitration.

Both will be coordinated and work side by side.

It is reported that some nations are not yet prepared to compose their disputes by legal methods, preferring arbitration.

Officials declare that it is necessary to get the court in operation as soon as possible as the treaty of Versailles specifically provides work for it. It was said that parts of the treaty could not be carried out without the court. Some officials of the league regard the formation of the court as the chief step necessary for the preservation of the world's peace.

STATE CHARITIES AID MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Ulster County Committee of the State Charities' Aid Association was held last Friday in the office of the county agent at 74 John street.

No special business was brought up, but the agent told about the children whom she has taken under her care during the past month.

As the agent expects to place one of these children in a free home as soon as she can, she explained to the committee, the steps involved in placing a child. In order that the foster parents may know just what is the background of the child, they must be told about its parents and near relatives. To gather this information, the agent must often make many calls in different places where the family have lived.

Also they must know that the child is sound, physically and mentally, so it must be carefully examined by competent doctors. And then it must be photographed so that a picture can be shown to a possible foster parent.

It all sounds as if it would take a great deal of time and it does, but nothing compared to the good gained by the child who is well placed with permanent, loving foster parents.

The agent also told of her need of a good boarding home, where she could place children while making a permanent plan.

And then she asked for children's clothing, simple, useful clothing for children of any age.

The meeting adjourned with the promise of definite help from nearly every member present.

HARDING AND COOLIDGE REPUBLICAN NOMINEES

Presidential Candidate Nominated on Tenth Ballot, Second Taken After Adjournment in Afternoon on Saturday—Coolidge Nominated on First Ballot.

Warren G. Harding, United States Senator from Ohio, is the Republican candidate for president.

He was nominated on the tenth ballot, shortly after 6 o'clock Saturday evening.

Gov. Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts, was selected as the candidate for vice president, only one ballot being taken.

The nomination of Senator Harding was received with great acclaim in the Coliseum, where 14,000 persons sweated and cheered. It had been inevitable, ever since the convention took a recess in the afternoon, following the eight ballot.

When the convention recessed from 1:30 to 6 o'clock, Harding had displaced Johnson in the ranking of the candidates and was standing third. He did not then have half as many votes as either Wood or Lowden, yet it was certain that he would be the nominee.

Lowden and Wood were losing ground, after having demonstrated they could get no higher in the balloting. Neither of them ever justified the claims or hopes of his backers. The highest vote Wood ever received was 314½ on the fourth ballot which was taken Friday night. The highest point reached by Lowden was on the sixth and seventh ballat, when his vote touched 311½.

The vote on the tenth and final ballot was:

Harding, 639 1-5.
Wood, 156
Lowden, 10
Johnson, 80 4-5
Coolidge, 5
LaFollette, 24.
Hoover, 8½.

CONGRATULATIONS FLOOD HARDING

Republican Nominee Greeted By Huge Crowd as He Reaches Washington—Will Receive Notification at Ohio Home

By Telegraph to The Freeman:

Washington, June 14—Hardly had Republican Presidential Nominee Warren G. Harding entered his office on Capitol Hill this morning before it became obvious that his program for a day of quiet work on unfinished senatorial business, would not be carried through. A steady stream of congratulations, conveyed both in person and by telephone, left the senator little leisure for other matters.

Senator Harding was in high spirits and seemed little the worse for his strenuous week in Chicago. Even when he alighted from the train at Union Station, shortly after midnight and greeted the three thousand enthusiasts who, despite the lateness of the hour, had waited to welcome him, he was fresh and buoyant. Although he made no address, he posed for several flashlight photographs and replied briefly to the cheering throng by assuring them he "was glad to be back."

At his home he saw the newspapermen for a few minutes. His plans are as yet somewhat indefinite, the senator said, although he expects to remain in Washington about a week, cleaning up pending senatorial business. While here he will confer with Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee. The date of the conference has not yet been determined. From here, he will go to his home in Marion, Ohio, and will there receive formal notification of his nomination.

Among those who returned with Senator Harding on the special train were Mrs. Harding, Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, Smoot of Utah, Poindexter, of Washington, Sutherland of West Virginia, Ball of Delaware, and Pernald of Maine.

THESE SUN FISH COST $11.50 EACH

Even with the present high cost of everything sun fish at $11.50 each is rather a steep price, but that is what Albert Bruehwiler, August Steckline and John Bennet, all residents of West New York, N. J., had to pay on Sunday, and the how of it follows.

The three are very fond of fishing, and drop a line overboard whenever they have the opportunity. Sunday morning they heard that yellow perch were biting in the upper Rondout creek, and just abov Eddyville they throw their lines overboard. The yellow perch might have been biting, but all they landed was three sun fish, and before they even had a nibble from a perch they felt a nibble from the strong arm of the law in the persons of Game Protectors McConnell and DeWitt.

In brief the three fishermen were placed under arrest on a charge of angling without first obtaining a non-resident angling license. They were taken before Justice Leon Van Wagenen of St. Remy and arraigned.

Pleading guilty they were each fined $10 and costs, bringing the total amount each had to pay $11.50 or $34.50 for three small sun fish that would not furnish a meal for a healthy man.

ITALIANS ADMIT AVLONA REVERSE

Two Detachments Overwhelmed By Albanians—Report Serbians With American Uniforms Aiding Albanians.

By Telegraph to The Freeman:

Rome, June 14.—A semi-official statement issued yesterday describing the Albanians attack on Avlona, admits that two Italian detachments after heroic resistance surrendered to overwhelming forces.

The statement, however, adds that a great attack on Avlonia on June 11, which was accompanied by a revolt of the Mussulman inhabitants of the town, was repulsed with heavy losses to the rebels. The Italian casualties according to the statement, did not exceed ten killed and fifty wounded. Reinforcements are now arriving and the critical phase of the situation has been overcome, the statement asserts

Italian Alpine troops have cleared the Avlona front of Albanian insurrections by violent counter-attacks, according to advices received today, which declare that the Italian troops were fired on from the rear by residents of Avlona. The Italians arrested and deported more than 1,000 Mussulman Albanians. In reprisal an Albanian chieftain is reported to have shot a number of Italian prisoners.

The situation in Albania is considered most grave. "The Albanian insursurgents have been strengthened by American-equipped Serbians, wearing American uniforms," says the Idea Nazionale, adding "it is true the offensive by Serbian and Jugo-Slav troops aims to chase Italy from the Balkans."

It is expected the Italians will be obliged to evacuate Antivari, as the Serbians have occupied the railway. The Serbians are also threatening the Italian garrison of Scutari.

Avlona was attacked after the delivery of an ultimatum demanding evacuation by the Italians in twenty-four hours, but the insurgents were repulsed at the point of the bayonet, losing 200 killed and 1,000 taken prisoner.

The Italian casualties were small, but several minor Italian contingents were surrounded and some captured.

The Italian general, Cavallo, was captured in bitter fighting which occurred in the outskirts of the city. Italian warships bombarded the insurgents and razed a number of villages

London, June 14 —Order has been restored at Triest, where demonstrations were held Friday night, as a protst against the sending of Italian troops to Albania, says a Milan dispatch to the London Times. It is learned that the soldiers who took part in the demonstrations and rioting numbered 200. Sixty of them are now missing

Twenty-five hundred Arditi were embarked from Milan for Albania.

FLAG OF THE FREE AND SOBER

P. N. Chase Finds New Significance in This Flag Day When Home Has Received its Death Blow—Four Flags Flying.

My flag up today? Of course. It is "flag day." I will remember the joy, and pride, and almost reverence with which, some years ago, I entered the Betsy Ross house in Philadelphia, where the first stars and stripes were made, and where Betsy Ross herself showed General Washington how to fold and cut a five-point star.

But as I glance up and down the street, only two other flags are in sight. Have the good people forgotten? Are they so absorbed in business that they have forgotten our flag and what it stands for? I suspect we will need to live in some other country, under some other flag, before we can fully appreciate our own.

We should fling Old Glory to the breeze whenever there is occasion. "Lest we forget, lest we forget."

But how much more it stands for now than it did years ago! Then it floated over four million slaves. Now all are free.

And far too recently it floated over more millions who were slaves to appetite—over the saloon not merely existing, but existing in accordance to law. And it was ever reaching out its hand to take its share from the pocket of the well-to-do, but also of the poor. In fact most of those who are poor are so because they could not support both the saloon and their own homes.

But now the flag floats over no saloon—and more millions have been emancipated than Lincoln freed.

Last Tuesday morning one of the best women of Kingston called me upon the 'phone. "Are you celebrating this morning?" she asked. To which I replied, "Yes, but we began last night. The sun was up quite a piece when The Freeman came, and I ran up the flag at once, and it was up again at sunrise."

When some of my neighbors asked me the reason I wondered if they had been sleeping with Rip Van Winkle, or whether the last toll of the bell for John Barleycorn meant nothing to them. (Your great headlines will never bring better news.) We had war-time prohibition after July last, and statutory prohibition after January 16, 1920, but the wets had assailed it at so many points, and made so much noise about it, and lawyers, some of national reputation, were in the market to break down the law of the nation if possible, that we all held our breath until the court of last resort had passed upon all the questions submitted to it, and the last nail was driven in the coffin of the wretch who had harmed the world more than war, pestilence and famine combined.

The decision of the U. S. supreme court was more drastic than even the most hopeful anticipated and it left not a single peg for the wets to hang any hope on.

No amendment to the federal constitution was ever before adopted by a vote that was so nearly unanimous. The legislatures of all but three states ratified it, some of them unanimously, and all with large majorities.

It is the law of the land, and he who speaks against it is not loyal to his country.

Doubtless the words spoken recently by one not an American will prove true. He said that if the law was upheld in the United States, other nations would be compelled to adopt prohibition, or they could not compete with our workmen in manufacturing, etc.

This question will come to many of the voters, are we properly represented in congress, and in our assembly, by those who by their votes have declared they are at home with the wets, and vote against law enforcement.

HOLY COMMUNION AT ST. MARY'S

A unique participation of the congregation of St. Mary's Church in the silver jubilee of the Rev. Dean John J. Hickey, was the written pledge of two thousand members of the parish to receive Holy Communion for the intentions of the jubilarian on the Sunday previous to the celebration, and in carrying out the pledge that number of the parishioners on Sunday received Holy Communion at the church. The services were very impressive.

At the services Sunday a cablegram from the Holy Fatehr at Rome was read. The cablegram was as follows: "Holy Father sends apostolic benediction to Father Hickey, occasion silver jubilee."

Dean Hickey's jubilee celebration will begin next Sunday with Solemn High Mass at 10:30 o'clock that morning, when Mozart's Mass will be sung by a choir of twenty-five voices, the choir being accompanied by a large orchestra. Dean Hickey will be the celebrant, and will be assisted by the Rev. Mallick Fitzpatrick, of New York, a former assistant at St. Mary's Church, and the Rev. William Keefe of Hudson. The preacher will be the Rev. Harold Purcell, C. P., who is one of the most eloquent of the Passionist missionaries in America.

Nature's Wise Supervision.

The part important played by the weather as a means of preventing the too rapid development of the plant life of the world can be realized only when we consider the vast number of seeds produced. If conditions of the atmosphere favored a more even temperature all over the earth, as was probably the condition in the early history of the planet, there would be fewer varieties of plant life, because the more rapidly producing plants would crowd out the others.

The Green Horse.

This bird, which is sometimes called the "lizard-catcher," is about one and a half feet long and is common throughout the United States and Canada. It feeds mostly on fish, frogs and other aquatic animals, and may be seen, particularly in the morning and in the evening, standing patiently motionless in some shallow water, waiting till prey comes within reach.

AT THE THEATRES.

"Fatty" Arbuckle at Keeney's—Chauncey Olcott Coming.

"The Mother of His Children," with Gladys Brockwell at Keeney's tonight, deals with the fascinating artist life of Paris. As an added feature "Fatty" Arbuckle in his latest scream, "The Garage," in which his side partner "Buster" Keaton also has ample opportunity to show off his agility as a tumbler of high order. The Bray Pictograph and Fox news weekly are also programmed. Tomorrow and Wednesday, Norma Talmadge in "She Loves and Lies."

A Robertson-Cole super-special, "Who's Your Servant," showing at the Auditorium tonight is a sensational picture story adapted from Julian Johnston's celebrated play. It will be shown here tonight only. Elmo Lincoln in "Elmo the Fearless," will give two more reels of thrills. Tomorrow Dorothy Dalton in "The Market of Souls."

Chauncel Olcott will undoubtedly find a cordial welcome awaiting him at the Kingston Opera House Wednesday night on which occasion he will appear in Rida Johnson Young's Irish comedy, "Macushla," a play which has stood the test of popular approval beyond the usual allotted time and has been showered with unstinted compliments by press and public.

ATHLETIC EVENTS

The Syracuse varsity crew, which is favored to repeat the victory of 1916 in the coming race against Cornell, Columbia and Pennsylvania on Lake Cayuga, June 19. The race is the eighteenth of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association. Instead of being decided on the regular Poughkeepsie course, it will be rowed on beautiful Lake Cayuga. The regatta is the first since 1916, the year before the United States entered the war. The 1916 race was won by Syracuse. In the inset is shown Coach Jim Ten Eyck of Syracuse.

Men Who Commands Success.

A man who is not enumered of his job, who lacks that resolute, determined purpose which knows no defeat, recognizes no failure, is never a success. The man who in victory organized will get up more determined than ever after he is knocked down. The harder the fall the greater the rebound. You can't keep such a man down, you can't discourage him any more than you could have discouraged a Napoleon, for his personality, his character, will remain although his home, his property, and every material thing he possessed be swept away.—New Success.

Take Worst Surnames.

In some parts of Scotland the following very frequently call themselves by their worst surnames. Thus James Smith marries Mary Green. He calls himself ever in business affairs, "James Smith Green."

Source of Anecdotes.

The word anecdote is derived from three Greek words, meaning "not given out." In other words, an anecdote means something not to be told, instead of the opposite meaning now current.

One hundred and forty dollars for one potato. This sum was not paid to one of our numerous profiteers, but to a Tacoma, Wash., farmer who exhibited the freak "spud" at a recent fair. With the exception of the legs and tail the potato is a natural growth.

Well to Know the Worst.

Thirty thousand years ago, says a weekly journal, the men around England were at a higher level than at present. It is difficult to know what can be done about it, but it is just as well that the matter should be mentioned.—London Punch.

He Has It Coming.

"Should other bolsheviki have been for disposal" was a question raised in a recent divorce action. The better opinion is that the fact that the wife from whom they gone out of his way to get married should tell against him.—Punch.

JUST PLAIN AMERICANS.

With the leading pre-convention candidates eliminated by reason of feeling engendered toward one another by the pre-convention contests, with a wealth of timber of presidential size available, and yet with no one man overshadowing the others, either by reason of his own superior eminence or their smallness, the Republican convention selected its candidates calmly, deliberately and wisely. There was no hysteria, no stampede, no bossing or bargaining—just an intelligent, conscientious effort to agree on the right thing.

Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge are Americans of the best type. Successful in their private business affairs, they have demonstrated in public life their ability and fearlessness, their sanity and patriotism. Neither is an extremist, a follower of fads guaranteed to be a sure cure for all the ills of humanity. Their election will give the country the thing it most needs, a return to sanity and plain, everyday American honesty and common sense in the conduct of public affairs.

PULL TOGETHER.

The tremendous amount of work that must be done to elect a Republican president demands that all Republicans pull together and unceasingly until the polls close in November. While everything points to success, it will bear repeating that nothing can be thought of quite so dangerous as over-confidence. Many a big undertaking has failed because those who had it in charge thought that they could not lose. Hardly a man or woman of any experience is without facts of some sort to prove that there have been occasions when defeat took place simply because of too much assurance that victory was certain. For this reason it is the duty of all Republicans to work with all their might and main and to leave no stone unturned that will help elect the candidate selected at Chicago.

Every Republican can do something to aid in the big cause. Some may be able to do more than others. But the many small contributors make up the grand total. There are many sincere Republicans who take little active interest in politics. They are the ones who can help this year by making just a little personal effort in the work that must be done. They can do their share in a way that will be equally as effective as that done by those who are more prominent. The silent worker, if he is a worker, always counts.

This country requires a return to sound principles of administration. This is the cry of the great body of people who have faith in the Republican party and who believe that only through the agency of the Republican party can there be a sensible readjustment. The eight years of the Wilson administration in Washington and the two years of the Smith-Tammany administration in New York have convinced the people that the Democratic party is inefficient and that if there is to be a restoration of that which is intelligent it must come under Republican auspices.

WEALTH IN TIPS.

Some years ago an aged negress who served as maid in the household of Alexander H. Stephens before the Civil War told an interviewer that the princely Robert Toombs, a most frequent guest, never failed to give her two dollars at the conclusion of even his briefest visits at "Liberty Hall." Though such tips no doubt enabled her to accumulate a snug sum in the course of years, this Georgia slave-woman belonged to an age and a section lacking in the opportunities for speculative investment enjoyed by the doorman of Delmonico's whose fortune founded on tips has been estimated at a million dollars. The doorman of this restaurant, although for many years it was the chief haunt in New York, may not have checked over a two-dollar tip as often as did the Georgia slave mentioned above, but of course he was tipped many times a day, and he learned how to place his accumulations to advantage.

"Being college bred," he explained to an interviewer, "I was able to converse intelligently with prominent men who dined regularly at Delmonico's, and it is needless to say without the friendly advice I got on such occasions I could never have made a million dollars in Wall street." The fact that tips of two kinds, added to a salary of a dollar a day, enabled a restaurant doorman to become a millionaire in the course of thirty years is an interesting reminder that the ways of making a living and becoming prosperous even by honest methods are legion—communistic Bolshevists to the contrary.

We outgrow our old foolish fears—

Who now is afraid of

COFFEE

People once were "afraid" of the steam engine. "It will blow up," they said. Time disproves many of our old fallacies.

There are many old delusions regarding foods. Some think they can't eat bread—some are "afraid" of potatoes. And some still believe that coffee doesn't "agree" with them.

Really—coffee is more healthful for more people than any other beverage. It is consumed in greater volume. It is the mainstay of the millions.

Good pure coffee is good for normal people. And it is still the cheapest item on your menu—it costs less than two cents per cup.

You will find in REYNOLDS RELIANCE a coffee of unsurpassed flavor and aroma. And our scientific process of roasting and grinding makes RELIANCE as healthful as it is delicious.

Remember to ask for RELIANCE. It is always fresh at your grocers—guaranteed to please or your money back. Wm. T. Reynolds & Company, Inc., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

HARDING ROSE BY OWN EFFORT

G. O. P. Candidate For Greatest Office Comes From Pioneer American Stock and Sheer Merit And Hard Work Have Brought Him Success.

Warren G. Harding, the Republican nominee for president was born on a farm near the village of Blooming Grove, Morrow County, Ohio, November 2, 1865, the eldest of eight children.

His forebears were all of that good sturdy American stock that all presidential candidates claim. His father, George T. Harding, was a country doctor who was descended of Scotch ancestry, and before living in Ohio, had been a Pennsylvanian. Some of the Hardings fought the Indians, some were massacred; others fought in the Revolution. The mother of Warren, Mrs. Phoebe Dickerson, was descended from an old-time Holland Dutch family, the Van Kirks.

In his youth, Warren lived the life of a farmer, attending the village school until he was 14 years od, when he entered Ohio Central College of Iberia. During his college life he was editor of the school paper and first displayed his talents for journalism.

There were frequent interruptions through college. There came times when the Harding purse grew thin and weak, and Warren promptly slammed shut his desk and went out to earn enough for another period of study. At one time he cut corn, at another he painted barns and at still another he drove a team and helped to grade the roadbed of a new railroad.

At 17, he taught a grade in public school and on Saturday afternoons and Sunday nights, he played a horn in the village brass band.

Gradually he began to absorb a liking for newspaper work, the first attraction being the mechanical end. At odd times he puttered about the office of the Blooming Grove newspaper and in time he became an expert typesetter. Later he operated a linotype machine. He is today a practical pressman and job printer, and as a "make-up" man is said to have few equals. When he became a Senator he carried with him as a luck-piece, an old printer's rule that he used to use when he was sticking type.

In 1884, Dr. Harding moved his family to Marion and a short time after that he made the purchase of the paper, which he turned over to his son. When the Blaine high hat blighted his chances on the paper after a creditor had taken it over, he moved on to the paper which he and his two friends bought.

On that paper, the Star, Senator Harding has held every job, from "devil" to editor. In all the years of his ownership, there has never been a strike there, or even one threatened.

He has very closely identified himself with Marion. Besides making the Star grow like a mustard seed, he made a very successful entry to other business lines. He is a director of two lumber companies, stockholder in several manufacturing plants, and director of a bank. He is a trustee of the Trinity Baptist Church, also. In 1891 he married Miss Florence Kling.

His political career is very tersely stated in the Congressional Directory as: "Member 65th and 66th Ohio General Assemblies as Senator from the 13th District, 1899-1903, and Lieutenant Governor of Ohio in 1904 and 1905; elected to the United States Senate, November 3, 1914. Term of office expires March 3, 1921."

Harding is a striking figure. He is a little less than six feet tall, with compact shoulders and a strong neck. His hair is tinged with gray. Recently he took up golf to keep his waist line in proportion to his build. He shows to excellent advantage on the platform, and it was his polished oratory that brought him to the attention of the Republican party. He was selected as temporary chairman of the 1916 convention because he was considered one of the most impressive and eloquent public speakers in the party.

Besides making good as a political orator, he has to a certain extent followed in the footsteps of William Jennings Bryan. For a long time he was a Chautauqua speaker traveling about delivering a lecture on "Life and Character of Alexander Hamilton." Nor does he shine less bright as an after-dinner speaker.

Electric Ovens.

Electric heat finds its widest use in ovens, which have proved specially valuable in the automobile industry for baking the japan on car bodies. By this means japan is baked on 3,000 bodies every day. Other large users of such ovens are telephone and typewriter factories, foundries, makers of iron frames for beds and cots and manufacturers of chemicals. Electric devices of the sort are employed for baking effervescent salts, and for drying a large variety of products requiring well-regulated heat and clean air in the oven itself.

Movements of "Big Dipper"

The naval observatory says that the "Big Dipper" moves in a circle around the pole once every 23 hours, 56 minutes, this being the length of a sidereal day. When above the pole the constellation moves from east to west; when below the pole from west to east. The motion is apparent only, being due to the actual rotation of the earth, and, like the diurnal motion of the sun and moon, takes place in the opposite direction to that of the earth's rotation.

Sea's Color Changes.

A curious change of color with the tide is noted in the beaches of Galveston island in the Gulf of Mexico. The usual golden color of the sands is retained as the tide ebbs; but with the ebb of the tide the beaches become quite purple, a change that is due to the appearance of great numbers of tiny purple shells.

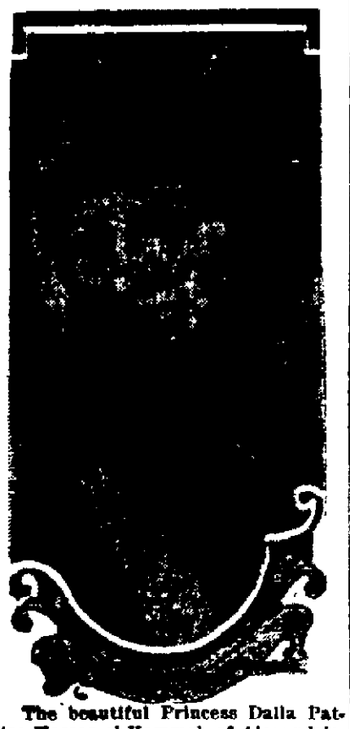
MATTERS BEFORE SURROGATE GILL

In surrogate's court the last will and testament of F. Eugenia Turner, deceased, of the city of Kingston, has been filed for probate. Bequests are made to the daughter, Anna Turner Herbert and the granddaughter, Margaret Herbert, also $200 in trust for the care of the burial plot in Wiltwyck Cemetery. An amount is to be set aside to be used for the education of the granddaughter. The rest and residue of the estate is to be created into a trust of which Charles Tappen is to be the trustee. Virgil B. Van Wagonen is the attorney for the trustee and executor.

County Treasurer Lounsbery has filed with the surrogate a report of the appraisal of the estate of Josephine Newkirk, deceased, of the town of Wawarsing, under the transfer act. Total value of estate to be assessed, $3,681.67, which is devised to John J. Newkirk and Helena Cole.

The appraisal of the estate of Elting Longyear, deceased, of the town of Esopus, under the taxable transfer act, is total value of property, $7,907.52, to which Georgianna Longyear, the widow, is entitled.

The appraisal of the property of the estate of Arietta C. Dymond, also known as Arietta C. Gross, under the taxable transfer act is $6,005.77. Persons entitled to the moneys, Lillian I. Snyder, daughter, $1,501.45; Jennie R. Crawford, daughter, $1,501.44; Lillian I. Murphy, granddaughter, $1,501.44; Leonard F. Hurley, great grandson, $750.72; Gladys N. Hurley, great granddaughter, $750.72.



The beautiful Princess Dalia Pattra Hassan el Kammel, of Alexandria, Egypt, who is being held by the New York authorities on a charge of alleged embezzlement preferred by Erude Buehler, an engineer of San Francisco. The Princess, who has been in this country for more than a year, is said to be a niece of the Khedive of Egypt. Upon her arrival in this country she entered the motion picture field, and, according to her story, Buehler offered to finance her film activities.

So hard is the cone of a pine in our western forests that the imprisoned seeds cannot be propagated in the ordinary way. Certain-teed Roofing Resists Fire

Certain-teed Roofing is fire retarding and spark proof; consequently your fire risk is greatly reduced when Certain-teed roofs your buildings.

Burning embers carried by the wind from nearby fires are always a menace to old fashioned, inflammable wood shingle roofs. Certain-teed forms a permanent protection against sparks and embers and all such carriers of fire.

Because of the great risk of general conflagrations in congested districts, and of the lack of safe fire protection in the outlying and rural districts you should get this Certain-teed protection on your buildings.

In addition to being fire resisting, Certain-teed is a most economical roof. It resists all forms of weather attack—rain, sleet, snow, sun, etc. It is guaranteed by the manufacturer for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to the weight you select.

There is a scarcity of many types of roofing products—you can always get Certain-teed Smooth Surfaced Roofing, the most economical and serviceable roofing to be obtained.

See your dealer at once. He either has Certain-teed or can get it quickly from a nearby Certain-teed warehouse.

"Nearer Than the Usual Factory"

COMMENCEMENT AT ST. STEPHEN'S

The sixtieth annual commencement of St. Stephen's College, Annandale-on-Hudson, began Sunday with the baccalaureate services in Bard Memorial Chapel. The service was conducted by the Venerable President Emeritus, Dr. William Cunningham Rodgers, and the sermon was preached by the present president, Dr. Bernard Iddings Bell.

In the course of his sermon, he said in part:

"Never has there been a time when the fundamental knowledges of God, of the world, and of one's self, were so essential for success. The function of collegiate education is, first of all, to enable men to understand, after fearless and dispassionate examination, the very complicated world of our time. It is a world sick at heart, and yet unable to cast from it that which makes it sick, a world greatly weary, yet unable to rest; a world far from sanity, yet unable to calm its troubled nerves. He who would minister to it must first be able to have understood it; rightly to have diagnosed its trouble. He must be one who has seen that the basic disease is an ethical one. He must understand that for the salvation of the world the one enemy to be conquered is selfishness triumphant.

"He who seeks to calm our brewing industrial ferment by damning labor and demanding the continuance of the status quo is doomed to failure. He who seeks to calm it by coddling labor and telling it it can do no wrong, is equally doomed to failure. To preach unselfishness, by word and deed, to capitalists and laborers alike, as the world solution of wrong, as the sole security for right, is the difficult task of a truly educated man today. It is difficult, because both sides will hate you for doing it. The capitalists and their organs of propaganda, industriously will denounce such a man as a dangerous demagogue, and the laborers and their organs of propaganda will for the most part insist that such a one is the enemy of all progress. If there be not those strong enough to stick to the truth while the mud-slingers sling their mud from either camp, woe be to America, for it is to such men we must look for the reconstruction which must come after selfish capitalists and selfish laborers have succeeded mutually in bankrupting one another and jointly in bankrupting all the rest of us."

Monday will be Class Day, with its function peculiar to St. Stephen's, of the solemn exhumation and lying in state of the resurrected Freshman Algebra, buried in secrecy by the present Senior Class at the end of its Freshman year. With the algebra, according to ancient custom, was buried enough champagne for all present to drink at the exhumation. This adds peculiar zest to the proceedings this year.

On Tuesday the fraternities have their reunion, and in the evening there will be a meeting addressed by Chaplain Herbert Smith '90 of the Southern Department, U. S. A., on "The New Army," and by Leopold Kroll '99, now of Honolulu, on "The New Orient."

At the commencement proper on Wednesday afternoon in addition to the conferring of degrees, an ode will be read by John Mills Gilbert, the poet (St. Stephen's '90) in honor of his class thirtieth anniversary, and addresses will be made by President Bernard Iddings Bell; Dr. John H. Finley, state commissioner of education, and Bishop Charles Sumner Birch of New York. The McVickar prize oration will be delivered by Arthur A. W. Pfaffko of Providence, R. I., a member of the graduating class, on the subject, "Warfare For Peace."

The only honorary degree will be that of Doctor of Divinity, conferred honoris causa upon Captain Frank Thompson, Corps of Chaplains, U. S. N., Senior Chaplain in point of service of the navy, who retires this year after thirty-four years of service. Chaplain Thompson was known during the war for his remarkable work as supervising chaplain in the middlewest departments, including the wonderful station at Great Lakes.

At the close of the exercises, Bishop Charles Sumner Birch will lay the cornerstone of the Memorial Gymnasium, a $100,000 structure built in memory of the men from the college who were in the great war, 117 in number, and especially of the seven men who gave their lives in the service. This is the first of five new structures to be built on the campus in the next three years.

The Miners Have Privileges.

The men who work in the Cornish tin mines are a class by themselves, and all their differences are adjusted by the stannary courts, as they are called from the Latin word stannum, meaning tin. These curious courts have existed in their present form since the middle of the thirteenth century and, in a simpler form, much earlier; and the miners claim to be free from all other jurisdiction, "except in matters affecting the land, life or limb."

BACCALAUREATE AT PRINCETON

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Princeton, June 14.—"The splendid idealism which has characterized our national life during the war has given place to the crude materialism of today."

Thus did President John Grier Hibben sum up his baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class at Princeton yesterday.

President Hibben declared the world had become "cowardly in the face of responsibility" and added:

"In our social relations we are weakly allowing ourselves to be ruled by the goddess of folly, slaves in her domain to the fashion of the hour. The modern dress, the modern dance, the modern music and modern manners of today are symptoms that indicate that somehow in this age we have lost our bearings and that the old values of life, once so highly prized, have been forgotten.

"There is the danger of a lessening if not a loss of the old time reverence for womanhood. There is no longer an air of mystery about the young woman today, a mystery once her defense and her glory, and whenever in the history of the race this divine prerogative of womanhood is lightly regarded or recklessly scorned, it has always proved a symptom of decadence far reaching and disastrous."

President Hibben then declared the present generation should remember "the clay out of which the Pilgrim Fathers were made," and continued:

"The very helplessness of the world today is in itself a repudiation of that self-sufficient and self-confident view of life that the world in its phenomenal development has outgrown the need of religion. It is religion which gives the world what it most needs, a standard of right living, a motive to motivate and defend, a leader to follow and a law to obey.

"The world needs men who believe in something greater than themselves, and have the courage to live their lives according to their convictions."

Ambiguous.

"Sweetness and light are the mark of a lovelier soul." And that's the case of some men.—Boston Transcript.

Why Clear Nights Are Colder.

A clear, bright starlight night in winter is always much colder than a cloudy one. The reason for this is that the heat of the earth is always thrown off more quickly when there is nothing to intercept it. Clouds act as a kind of blanket, and in preventing the earth's heat from escaping, tend to keep the atmosphere warm.

REAL FISHIN' TIME IS CLOSE

The black bass and Oswego bass open season begins Wednesday, June 14. The minimum length is ten inches. Limit per day to one person, fifteen; to a boat, two or more persons, twenty-five. Bass whether taken within or without the state shall not be sold or offered for sale. The bass season begins what is termed by sportsmen "the real fishing time." Kingston has many bass fishermen who have their favorite fishing holes, a number going to Legg's Mills, some to the Fourth Binnewater, while others say that the Rondout creek in the vicinity of Eddyville is the best place to go. Some large sized bass have been caught out of the Esopus creek under the Highmarville bridge in years gone by, but the damming of the waters at Ashokan by New York city has kept the fish from coming down to Kingston.

It is generally believed by authorities on fishing that June and July are the real months for catching bass. At this time, the first feeding period after spawning, the bass fall easy prey to an experienced angler. They are hungry because of the lack of food while guarding the nests. Besides this the bass retain much of that fighting spirit developed during the spawning season. This spirit, however, does not last far into the season, the bass becomes well fed and less aggressive, until toward late summer he shuns the shallow waters, appearing only in the early morning and during the night.

The most important question in angling for bass is the nature of bait to be used. Authorities claim that during the first few weeks of the season a great variety of lures may be used. In fact, almost any kind of bait will tempt the bass. It is not so much the bait that counts, but the patience of the fisherman. Later in the season, when the fish begin to rest, great care should be taken in the choice of the bait. At this time of the season experienced anglers agree that the bass put up great fights.

Spencer's Business School Notes.

The following graduates of Spencer's Business School, Inc., have recently accepted good office positions through the recommendation of Charles L. Kelly, president of the school:

Miss Beatrice Gray, a graduate of the shorthand and typewriting departments, has been located as stenographer and office assistant with the General Electric Company, Building No. 2, Schenectady, N. Y.

Miss Mildred Moore, a graduate of the stenographic department, has also been located with the General Electric Company, Schenectady, serving as stenographer and typist.

Miss Anna Pelham, a student of the shorthand department of Spencer's School, has been placed in a permanent position as stenographer and clerical assistant with the General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

In speaking with the manager of a large employment bureau, the president of Spencer's School was informed that his graduates were among his best office assistants, and that he desired to secure as many others as possible, guaranteeing good salaries to those who would accept positions. Coming from a man of his ability, Spencer's School feels much elated at his complimentary remarks.

The summer session starts Tuesday, July 6. It is expected that many students from the public schools will avail themselves of the opportunities offered. The study halls and class rooms are cool, sanitary and complete. In planning the new Spencer's School, no pains have been spared to make it the best in everything. Students are cordially invited to look over the new school quarters with its modern and better equipment.

CHILDREN'S DAY

Generously Observed at Clinton Avenue M. E. Sunday School.

Children's Day exercises were held Sunday morning by the members of the Sunday school of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church, the program eclipsing all former efforts. The children did exceptionally well in the recitations, exercises and drills. One of the exceptionally attractive pieces was that of the primary class entitled "Just Because It's June." A large class of infants was baptized and at the close of the service the pastor made an appeal for the special collection for the benefit of the children's educational fund. Seventy-five dollars were received for this fund, the largest in the history of the Sunday school.

The church was crowded to capacity by the parents and friends of the children who, attired in white, presented a very attractive picture.

Water Affects Teeth.

Scientific investigation discloses the fact that where "hard" water is used for drinking, good teeth are the general result. "Hard" water contains a large amount of lime which enters largely into the composition of teeth.

What One Big Oil Company Found in Investigating the Gasoline Situation

"One of the oil companies has compiled some data which shows that the average water-cooled automobile runs about 12 MILES ON A GALLON of gasoline compared with about 18 MILES A GALLON for the average air-cooled car."—Wall Street Journal, May 8, 1920.

THE advantage of air cooling is established. And it is increased by Franklin light weight and flexibility—not only in economy but also in comfort and reliability. Proof—owners' records:—

20 miles to the gallon of gasoline
12,500 miles to the set of tires
50% slower yearly depreciation
(National Averages)

The increasing timeliness of the above Franklin results is strikingly shown by the following figures—the latest evidence of Franklin popularity:

80% increase in production
150% increase in demand

AUTO TIPPED OVER.

Party of Brooklyn Residents Hurried to Hospital Here Sunday.

Sunday morning on the Ashokan boulevard an automobile party had a narrow escape from serious injury when their auto tipped over. They were on their way to Kingston at the time. There were five in the car, and all were hurried to the Kingston City Hospital. After their wounds were dressed they proceeded on their way to Brooklyn. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Grumbhart were badly cut about the face, but their 4-months old baby was uninjured. Mary Chenkel was shaken up and badly bruised, and Helena Stock sustained a compound fracture of the right arm, she being the most injured of the party.

Hohmyer Held for Grand Jury.

Charles E. Hohmyer, who was arraigned Saturday afternoon before Police Justice Henry E. McKenzie at Port Ewen on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree, made by Catherine Marsden for the alleged taking of furniture owned by her and valued at $1, was held to await the action of the grand jury in September. He gave $100 cash bail to County Judge Hunter and was released from custody. Dubois Gillette appeared for District Attorney Traver. Hohmyer must report once a month to the district attorney until the grand jury meets.

An Impressive Display.

Forsyth & Davis, the Wall street hook sellers and dealers in high art work, have on display in one of their show windows, one of the finest exhibitions of sterling silverware ever shown in Kingston. There are nearly one hundred articles, being similar to that shown by the Gorham Company in the Fifth avenue store window. There are vases, fruit dishes, pitchers, platters, forks, horseradish and other articles, some of them selling for $350, while others are priced at $150 and other large amounts.

Elks Observe Flag Day.

There was a large attendance at the Flag Day anniversary exercises of the Elks at their rooms in Kingston Lodge, No. 840, Sunday afternoon. Similar exercises were held by all the Elks lodges in the United States, action having been taken at the national convention in 1907. There was meeting by the Irondequoits Club, the Flag Day ritual recognized by the officers of the lodge, and Brother John T. Loughran read the tribute to the flag.

Shoemaker A Suicide.

Archie Boston, 26 years old, who conducted a shoe repairing shop at Fleischmanns and living with his widowed mother, was found dead in the sitting room of his home in that village last Friday afternoon, with a bullet hole through his brain. Coroner Wenck of Delhi was at once summoned and after an investigation on the scene of the tragedy decided that all facts pointed to a case of suicide.

MT. PLEASANT.

Mt. Pleasant, June 12.—The people of this locality are welcoming the summer guest into our village.

Two ladies from the Bide a Wee cottage attended the auction at Wittenberg on Friday last.

Mrs. S. Rubenstein of Mt. Pleasant was a Kingston caller on Thursday last.

Mrs. Harry Hilbert met with a serious accident last week one day while trying to stop a run away horse. Mrs. Hilbert was thrown to the ground and received a cut on her head.

Calvin Satterlee of Wittenberg was a caller in this place on Friday.

C. M. WOOLSEY ON STRONG MEN

Says Farmer of Milton Lifted 800 Pound Bell In Good Old Days When There Were No Play Grounds or Gymnasium.

Captain C. Meech Woolsey, of Marlborough, the veteran lawyer and Grand Army man, in a communication to the New York Sun-Herald, tells of the strong forefathers, in stories of muscle and endurance in Ulster county, as follows:

To The Sun And New York Herald:

I see by your issue of June 10 you have an article entitled "Our Strong Young Men," and you say, "Every day evidence appears that the American male is physically more powerful than his ancestors." Now I hardly know from this short article whether it was written in earnest or as a burlesque on the present generation.

But I know from a life of long experience and from tradition that the men were much stronger seventy-five years and more ago than they are at the present time. And at that time there were no playgrounds, baseball fields and gymnasiums.

When a brass bell was received here for a local church in this town, weighing 800 pounds, a farmer picked it up in his hands and moved it. This same man afterward picked up a barrel of cider weighing 350 pounds at the river, holding it on his back by the chines of the barrel, and carried it 400 yards up a steep hill and put it over a stone fence. This was done on a wager for the barrel of cider, and when the owner, a man weighing 200 or more pounds, followed up and wanted to claim the barrel he was picked up and thrown over the fence by the same man.

Then the work performed in the harvest fields in those times was marvelous, for there were no mowers or reapers and the crops were cut by scythes and cradles. It was a common thing for a man to cut six or seven acres of rye or wheat in a day. And there is an authenticated case where a man cut ten acres. To be sure, the man in those times worked from sun to sun and on some occasions even longer. A man could cut two or three acres of grass in a day. Men went into the woods and cut four cords of wood a day, spending the next day to cord it up and measure it.

It was not an uncommon thing for a man to lay four rods of stone fence in a day. And I might illustrate many other classes of work.

No one was working only eight hours in those times. They worked many hours and they were skilled men at their various labors. They had the best of implements to work with and had the faculty of keeping them in the sharpest condition.

Now in these demoralized times no one is trying to do such difficult work and no man now has the strength to perform such amount of work or do hard work for so many successive hours.

I am giving perfectly authenticated cases which I know personally or by tradition, and if any one will take the trouble he can find lots of old men in this and adjoining counties, and in fact, all over the farming communities of the state, who can tell the same facts.

It would be utterly impossible for the present generation to accomplish the work done in those remote times. If such work were done now, and if men worked so faithfully and for such long hours, and had the strength, there would be no complaining about the scarcity of help or about raising and gathering the full crop.

CAPTAIN C. M. WOOLSEY.

TWO KILLED IN D. AND H. WRECK

By Telegraph to The Freeman:

Glens Falls, N. Y., June 14.—James H. Phillips, engineer, and James Gallagher, brakeman, of Albany, were killed and Ira Wilson, conductor, of Whitehall, was injured when a southbound Delaware and Hudson freight train crashed into another southbound freight train at Gansevoort at 4 o'clock this morning. The dead men were in the caboose of the forward train. The caboose took fire when the crash came. The men were instantly killed and their bodies were charred. The remains were taken to a Saratoga Springs undertaker's rooms.

Wilson was rescued from the flames by Engineer George Bush. He was brought to the Glens Falls Hospital. A thick fog prevailed at the time of the accident.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, June 14.—Despite favorable reports during the week end, the trend of prices today was downward and substantial losses were recorded during the first 15 minutes all through the list. Steel Common yielded ⅞ to 93⅞ and Baldwin dropped over 2 points to 116⅞. Mexican Petroleum sold off 3¼ to 179¼ and Pan-American Petroleum dropped over 1 point to 102½. Southern Pacific and Reading were both in supply at substantial declines and specialties like Industrial Alcohol and United Retail Stores showed material declines. The motors were also under pressure.

The market continued weak during the first hour and there was little outside buying. After the first hour a steadier tone developed and recoveries were recorded. Crucible Steel rose to 154, a new high for this movement.

The market closed weak; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds irregular.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Barley-Oakley.

On Thursday, June 10, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Oakley of Lyonsville was the scene of a very pretty June wedding when their daughter, Maud, became the bride of Tracy Barley of Lyonsville, New York. The bride was attended by Miss Elizabeth O. Elmendorf of Stone Ridge as maid of honor and Miss Mildred Barley and Miss Elizabeth Oakley as flower girls. Sherman Barley, a brother of the groom, was best man. The ceremony was performed under an arch of pink flowers and ferns by Rev. Thomas A. Braithwaite, pastor of the Lyonsville Reformed Church. The bride wore a gown of white georgette crepe with pearl trimmings and a tulle veil. She carried a large shower bouquet of bridal roses. The maid of honor wore a gown of cream georgette crepe and carried a large bouquet of pink daisies. The flower girls wore white dresses and carried yellow rose buds. Miss Maud Beatty and Kenneth Oakley, a brother of the bride, sang "Oh, Promise Me" and Miss Mildred Green played the wedding march. About fifty guests were present from Rosendale, Kingston, Stone Ridge, Kyserike, Accord and Lyonsville. At the close of the ceremony a most sumptuous wedding repast was served to the guests. The wedding gifts were elaborate and expensive, consisting of silver, gold, cut glass, money, linens, etc. Congratulations and good wishes were literally showered upon the happy couple by letter and in person. The couple left on the 6:40 train for a short wedding tour. Mr. and Mrs. Barley have the best wishes of a large circle of friends for a long and happy married life.

WHAT HAPPENED JUNE 13.

Italians shelling Goritz defences. Communicating of city cut off, except through mountain pass. Italian advance may isolate West Austria. Are only 175 miles from Vienna itself. Austrian stores and supplies are being moved out of Trieste; may evacuate. French carry strongly fortified ridge at Souchez and north of Arras. Germans bombard Soissons and military works at Luneville, without effect.

1916.

Note to Carranza is a flat refusal to his demands; has failed to keep his promise to safeguard Americans and border. U. S. will demand explanation. Canadians rush forward on front of 1,500 yards width southeast of Zillebeke and retake old British trenches. Germans gain at Verdun. Crown Prince's troops in terrific assaults, take advanced posts west of Thiaumont. Thrown back elsewhere.

1917.

Root Mission to Russia reaches Petrograd on same day as Stevens Railroad Commission arrives. 97 killed, 437 injured in raid of German airplanes; squadron of ten bomb lower London at the noon hour. Haig repulses counterattack against new positions on Souchez river, near Lens. Gun fire on French front.

1918.

French throw Germans back across the Metz and hold heights of Melicocq and Croix Ricard. German attack at Courcelles breaks down under stiff resistance, while von Hutier's men in drive for Compiegne are stopped. Germany will declare our Atlantic coast a danger zone, warning neutrals it is said.

1919.

Battle with Villa forces reported near Juarez. General Angeles, Villa's chief aid, plans attack on the city today. 24th Infantry sent from Columbus to El Paso to guard border. Kolchak in return for Allied aid, pledges not to exceed his power.

WHAT HAPPENED JUNE 14.

1915.

Germans smash Russian front. Mackinsen's army storm positions along 43-mile line in Middle Galicia, claim 16,000 prisoners taken. Brilliant cavalry charge at Zale Szcyky results in local Russian success, but German forces in the south report great gains. Berlin now talks of compromise. Leading editors take conciliatory stand toward America, as Rumania shows self about to enter war.

1916.

Rapid Russian advance in Bukowina may cut off Austrian army. Desperate defence of Czernowitz by Germans will not prevent its fall. In Volhynia advance is slower, but invincible. Twenty miles from the important city of Kovel. Verdun fighting slackens. Fire switches to east bank of the Meuse. French local attacks net a few prisoners.

1917.

Germans begin to fall back from Messines, giving up important positions in retreat toward the Lys as British pressure increases. British storm Infantry Hill on front of ¾ mile east of Munchy-le-Preux. Wilson says Berlin is seeking a deceitful peace. Wishes to close its bargain before it is too late and it has little left to offer.

1918.

Allies press Japan to act in Russia. French officers join Japanese officials in Tokyo for conference on intervention. Prussian political situation grows chaotic as Lower House rejects equal franchise reform bill promised by the Kaiser. No continuation of German drive today apparently ended in costly failure. Artillery active along line. Our armies now ready to fight as units. Allied supports to be withdrawn.

1919.

Alcock and Brown, transatlantic contestants, hop off from St. John's in big Vimy biplane, headed for Galway coast. Leaves at 4:10 Greenwich time. Paris shocked by Knox resolution; say ability to hold oil may cause world chaos. America needed for peace.

CALVIN COOLIDGE SELF-MADE MAN

Republican Nominee For Vice-Presidency Product of The Farm—Knows Politics But Nomination Came Unsought.

Governor Calvin Coolidge—"Law and Order Coolidge"—of Massachusetts, just named as the Republican nominee for the vice-presidency of the United States, was born on a farm in the little village of Plymouth, Vt., on July 4, 1872. His father, in addition to carrying on the farm, was the village storekeeper. Coolidge's ancestors, from the time John Coolidge settled in Watertown, Mass., in 1630, were all farmers.

Young Calvin worked on the farm and in the store and attended the village school. Then he progressed in his education in academies in the Vermont towns of Ludlow and St. Johnsbury, and his father sent him to Amherst College. At the commencement exercises in the year of his graduation from college he was one of the class orators.

Coolidge next studied law in the office of a law firm in Northampton to such good effect that after 20 months digging at the law books he was admitted to the bar. He opened a law office in the same city and continued to practice there until his public duties occupied all his time.

The first public office was as a member of the Northampton City Council, in 1899. Successively he was city solicitor, county clerk, state representative for two years, mayor for two years, and state senator for four years. Also included in his record of public offices held are president of the state senate, lieutenant governor for three terms and two terms as governor.

In 1918 he was nominated by the Republicans without opposition for governor and was elected by a plurality of about 17,000. He was renominated in 1919 and, aided by the prestige gained through his relation to the Boston police strike, was reelected by a plurality of more than 125,000.

In appearance Governor Coolidge is unostentatious to the point of plainness. He is about 5 feet 8 in height, slight of build, weighing about 150 pounds, has sandy hair and very keen blue eyes. His speech is marked strongly with down east idioms; he says "yaahss" and there is a very noticeable Yankee twang in his articulat.

He is the best of listeners; waits patiently until he has heard everything to be said and then turns it over in his mind very, very carefully before framing a reply. When he answers he does so concisely, pointedly and completely. After he has finished there is nothing more to be said about the particular matter in question. He has disposed of it.

He has no fads except politics and his favorite literature deals with that subject. In fact he is the author of a semi-political work, "Have Faith in Massachusetts." Governor Coolidge is married and has two sons, now in early manhood. He has an unpretentious but comfortable home in Northampton, Mass.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS BASEBALL CUP

Victory Over Poughkeepsie High Means That Emblem of Supremacy For Central Hudson League Comes Here This Week—Fumbles Costly to Losers.

Saturday afternoon Kingston High School's white elephant proved to be a hoodoo for Poughkeepsie High School's aggregation of ball players who were defeated with a 11-3 score. With this seventh victory against one defeat, Kingston High School won the cup in the Central Hudson Valley Interscholastic Baseball League. Two of Kingston's seven victories were over schools which are not in the league, but in the league the locals won 5 and lost 1.

Caunitz started out on the mound and pitched good ball excepting an occasional let-up.

Poughkeepsie's men tried to juggle the ball too much and it appeared as though they were used to grand stand playing. This juggling lost them many a chance.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, June 14.—The children day service, held in the Methodist Church Sunday morning was one of the best ever held in the church. The program, "The Festal Day," was used. The children did their several parts in a way most commendable and showed they had been coached by the ones who knew how. Special mention should be made of the pianist, Miss Mary Neal. The Reformed Sunday school was represented, led by its efficient pastor, Rev. Leonard Appeldoorn. At the close of the children's exercise the pastor, Rev. George E. Wright, gave a short but pointed address to the children and parents.

Miss Anna Short of Cottekill is visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Short on Main street.

The Missionary Society of the Reformed church will meet Tuesday afternoon, June 15th, at the home of Mrs. Chester DeGraff on Stout avenue at 3 o'clock. The subject is "Korea."

George Hotaling who has spent a few weeks with his mother, Mrs. J. N. Hotaling, on Broadway, returned to his home in Albany Saturday.

Samuel Patsdee of Albany spent the week end at his home on Broadway.

Port Ewen Lodge, No. 656, will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in its rooms in Pythian Hall.

Mrs. Dinah DuBois of Springtown, N. Y., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Mary Van Aken, on Green street.

Philip Schoonmaker of Kingston spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Atkins on Hasbrouck street.

The annual strawberry social of the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church will be held in the chapel Tuesday, June 15th. Supper served from 6 to 8 o'clock. Entertainment in the auditorium of the church commences at 8 o'clock. A silver offering will be taken. The menu for the supper is as follows: Beef roll, creamed new potatoes, lima beans, lettuce, strawberry short cake, strawberries and cake, coffee, tea. Ice cream on sale. Those who have attended these suppers know how well these women can serve them and that they are noted for their delicious cooking. Come and be convinced. A good hearty meal awaits you.

A business meeting of the Epworth League will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. A large attendance is desired.

Successful Children's Day.

In spite of the threatening weather on Sunday morning the Children's Day service at St. James's Church was a decided success in every way. The attendance was large, the singing by the school was unusually fine, the recitations by the little people of the Sunday school were charming, the floral decorations, daisies, laurel, peonies, etc., were abundant and lovely and the instrumental music, under Fred Hunter, was most enjoyable—this was the musical feature of the service. The program went off from start to finish "like clock work," and for this great credit is due to the committee in charge. A most unique part of the service was the dedication of a number of infants in holy baptism.

Mexico City, June 14.—Wholesale arrests of Bolsheviki agitators in the thickly populated sections of the republic is under way, the government announced today. According to the officials, the campaign will be continued until the various red organizations which caused a foothold in the country during the Carranza administration are wiped out. Several Russians are under arrest here while news was received of other arrests at Monterey and San Luis Potosi. All suspects are foreigners.

The Worm Turns.
